

I Have A Dream – Martin Luther King

Created by: Reece S. Omadeli Edited by: Charles Mance

We're blessed with legends
Such as Mr. Luther King and Mr. Malcolm X
Both of whose dreams
Have come true and stood the test.

Ms. Rosa Parks,
Who refused to move to the back,
'Cause her skin was dark,
Sat still and made her mark,
Ignoring racist remarks.

Still living with a legend
Mr. Nelson Mandela
Who went through hella,
Came outta a jail,
A real good fella.
Full of forgiveness
Now age 92,
Still doing the business

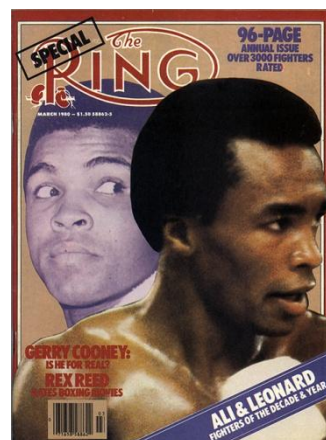

MJ - Jordan, Jackson
Legendary initials
Great in both ways
Jackson alive in our hearts,
Till this very day.
Smooth criminal or a Thriller,
Every last song he ever made - a killer.

Jordan, always scoring,
Leaves the crowd roaring.
Dunking, hearts pumping,
Every last step on the court
He's stomping.
Dunk, Lay-up or a 3
He made it look easy.

Tyson, Frazier,
Sugar Ray
Knockouts with no delay,
Right, left, Cassius Clay
In his prime best fighter of his day,
Float like a butterfly sting like a bee,
Simply the greatest
Mr. Mohammed Ali.

Now whose running states from L.A down to Oklahoma,
Best believe Mr. "Yes I can" - PRESIDENT Obama

Best black to ever drop'a rap track - you don't know that?
Then you deserve a smack, 'cause that title's Tupaq's.

Denzel. Mr. Rise and excel.
Acting - 2 Oscars - yup he does it well
Then there's Mr. Smith - Seven Pounds,
Fresh Prince - No better show since
Watch it if ya ain't convinced.

Some claim when you think of fame,
You mention their names,
Both became the greatest in their game -
Pray for me as I wish for the same.

Too many names to name, not enough space in my brain, So don't cast blame as I'm sure whoever ain't named here ,Is listed in another hall of fame.

Yes I (We) Can – Barack Obama
